Buying a new home? Look for an energy efficient home! Ask your builder about the HERS Index Score (Home Energy Rating System). The HERS Index Score is a way to measure a home's total energy performance, much like a "miles-per-gallon" sticker for houses. And remember, when it come to the HERS Index Score, the lower, the better! A low score means a more affordable, comfortable and energy efficient home. To learn more visit intgas.com/wholehomerebate.
